LOCAL AND PERSONAL

LOCAL SCOUT OFFICIALS MEET.

Medina County Chairman W. N. Saathoff called a meeting Wednesday of this week at which ten interested men were present and discussed the Scout program and its application to the boys of Hondo and Medina County. Judge R. J. Noonan and Mr. John Finger were not present due to the annual school picnic.

A General Committee composed of Henry Windrow, troop organization; Dr. T. B. Knopp, Court of Honor and troop advancement; J. Gordon Barry, Scout activities and camping; and Fisher King, Scout finances, were elected.

The group present signed a letter to Hon. and Mrs. John N. Garner, requesting that if possible their secretary, Louis Friday, represent Southwest Texas Council at a National Council meeting in New York, May 16 and May 17.

Reorganization of the Scout troops were discussed and plans are under way with good leadership provided. A meeting and afternoon hike of all interested boys 12, 13 and 14 years and older, is being planned for an early date by the activities committee.

H. F. King appointed Henry Windrow, Dr. Knopp, John Finger, Hy. Merriman, O. A. Fly, W. N. Saathoff, J. G. Barry and Judge Noonan on his committee and they are functioning in order to raise in pledges and cash Medina County's quota.

METHODIST CHURCH. MOTHER'S DAY.

The second Sunday in May has been given to the honoring of Mother. It has been made Mother's Day by presidential proclamation, consequently throughout our Nation, as well as many other nations, special services will be held honoring motherhood.

On this day it is but fitting that mothers throughout the land receive pen and floral messages of love, and tribute should be paid them by press and pulpit.

It speaks well for a people of this wonderful age that they are pausing from experiments and achievements in a busy world, and give thanks for one who from the beginning of time has been the greatest blessing of man—our mothers.

So today America honors its mothers, the young ones caressing their first born, those who through the passing years have guided their children with loving care to noble manhood and womanhood, and the silver-haired ones wearing the glorious crown of grandmotherhood.

This Mother-love is so true, so faithful, so like the Father's love. The poet has thus put it:

"If I were hanged on the highest tree,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!
I know whose love would follow me still,
Mother o' mine, Mother o' mine!"

"If I were damned of body and soul,
Mother o' mine, mother o' mine!
I know whose prayers would make me whole,
Mother o' mine, mother o' mine!"

You are urged to attend church this Sunday and pay your tribute to your mother and to Motherhood.

You are invited to worship with us at the Methodist Church. We welcome you to our services.

Sunday school, 9:45 A. M.

Worship service, 11 o'clock—Subject, "Mother."

Evening service, 8 o'clock—Subject, "Leaves From The Tree of Life."

OLD SETTLER PASSES AWAY.

Another Medina County pioneer passed on to the great beyond when Mrs. Margaretha Schreiber (nee Hesser) died at her farm home west of Hondo April 25, 1932, at the advanced age of some 88 years. Her remains were laid to rest in the D'Hanis cemetery the following day, her pastor, Rev. Father T. J. Flynn, performing the funeral services. A large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends gathered at the funeral to pay their last respects to the venerable departed.

Mrs. Schreiber was born in Bavaria, Germany, about 88 years ago. Her parents brought her to America when she was about four years old and settled at New Braunfels. Here both parents soon died and when she was about 7 years of age she was brought to D'Hanis where she was cared for and reared by Jos. Finger, the grandfather of the present, Jos. Finger of D'Hanis.

Growing to young womanhood she was married in November, 1861, to J. M. Schreiber, one of the early settlers of D'Hanis. There were born to this union nine children two of whom are deceased. The living are Joseph and Emil Schreiber both of San Antonio; Misses Christina and Barbara and Gustave and August Schreiber of Hondo and Theodore of Pernell, Oklahoma. The deceased were Mrs. Philomina Jouernig and Mrs. Annie Piper, both of whom were residing in San Antonio at the time of their demise. Eleven grandchildren and seven great grandchildren also survive.

Besides knowing the hardships of pioneer days, Mrs. Schreiber had been a widow for many years, Mr. Schreiber having died August 10, 1894. He came to America with his parents when 12 years old, and his father, John S. Schreiber, was afterwards killed by Indians in the early days of D'Hanis.

After a life that could best be described as a long and toilsome journey, this venerable mother has come at last to her rest, sustained and comforted by the consolations of her church in whose faith she had lived.

Those who mourn her departure have the sympathy of all who know them.

NOTICE TO HOUSEHOLDERS AND PROPERTY OWNERS.

The week beginning May 16 and ending May 21 is hereby designated "Clean Up Week" for Hondo and vicinity. Civic, church and school organizations are urged to cooperate in cleaning up all premises.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

The Bible and the Lutheran Church.

The Lutherans of the United States and Canada receive and hold the canonical Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments as the inspired Word of God and as the only infallible form of all church teaching and practice. The Word of God reaches man through preaching the law and Gospel, which begets daily repentance and faith, the true marks of a Christian life. The sacraments of baptism and the Lord's Supper are not regarded as mere signs and memorials, but as channels through which God bestows His grace. The Lutheran faith does not enter in the doctrine of the sovereignty of God or in the church, but it centers in the Gospel of Christ for fallen man—From U. S. Government Census of Religious Bodies 1926.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, founded upon the "sure Word of Prophecy" extends a warm welcome to all its friends and to the stranger in this community to feel free to worship with us. We offer you the Bread of Life for your soul. In our quiet and reverent atmosphere, you will be wholesomely refreshed to begin a new week of perplexing problems. We are glad to see the faces of several friends and fellow-citizens in our audience and hope they will continue to come.

Next Sunday our service will begin at the usual time, 10:30 and will be held in the German language. We shall observe Ascension of Christ next Sunday. The night service will also begin at the same time, 8 o'clock in the English language.

A special service will be observed at night. Since this Sunday is Mother's Day, the sermon at night will deal with the theme: "Honor Thy Mother." The whole family is invited to attend, but particularly the children, young people and their mothers. Honor your mother by going to church with her next Sunday.

The Sunday school teachers will meet for teacher's training on Friday night of this week, May 6, at 7:30.

Chamber of Commerce Head Talks To Young People.

The San Antonio Conference of Luther Leagues assembled in Highland Park Lutheran Church, San Antonio last Sunday night was privileged to hear an inspiring address by Mr. Herman H. Ochs, president of the Chamber of Commerce of San Antonio and a member of Grace Lutheran Church. Mr. Ochs spoke on "My Bible". In well-chosen words, the speaker emphasized the importance of the Bible in contrast with other books, and invited his hearers to treasure it more highly. His texts were Psalm 14, 1 "The Fool hath said in his heart there is no God" and Joshua 24, 15 (the wise man) "as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." Mr. Ochs revealed deep familiarity with his subject.

The afternoon session last Sunday was devoted to business matters and was made profitable by the address by Rev. D. E. Anderson of San Antonio and three short talks on "This Business of Luther Leagues" by three League members. A short discussion followed each presentation. The Hondo Luther League was represented at the conference. The picnic supper and the games at Roosevelt Park were much enjoyed by all.

L. A. HABY RETIRING.

Announcement of the closing out of the mercantile business of L. A. Haby at Dunlay and Biry is made on the last page of this paper. This is one of the oldest businesses of Medina County, having been started by Joseph Carle when the town of Dunlay was first laid out when the S. P. Railroad was new. The business passed into the hands of the present management some 35 years ago and has been built up and expanded by Mr. Haby until it is now one of the foremost businesses in the county.

His reasons for selling out are plainly stated on the last page of this paper, and those who take advantage of the bargains he is offering can make money-saving purchases.

Don't miss the chances offered by this sale to make your money go the farthest in buying power.

The sale is in the charge of Messrs. Maier and Keller, the former well known to many Anvil Herald readers as he has had charge of several similar sales in this section before.

MEDINA COUNTY COUNCIL OF PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATIONS OFFICERS ELECTED.

The annual meeting of the Medina County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations convened at the Hondo High School auditorium on last Saturday afternoon April 30th at 2 o'clock. The several hours of vocal and instrumental music, interspersed with interesting lectures, were enthusiastically received by visitors from almost every Parent-Teacher Association in the County.

County Superintendent W. N. Saathoff, who has so ably steered the course of the Council since its organization, and through whose untiring efforts lecturers of State-wide and sometimes national reputation have been procured to give of their wealth of knowledge and experience in the cause of Child Welfare and Parent Education to the mothers and fathers of the children of the schools of Medina County, presided over the meeting and called it to order by having all unite in the singing of "America".

Mr. Saathoff then introduced Mrs. Joe Dillon, retiring president of the Hondo P. T. A., who in a short address welcomed the visitors.

Mrs. Dillon's address was followed by three delightful violin and piano numbers by the talented little daughters of Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Knopp, Misses Evelyn and Margaret Ann.

Dr. B. H. Carlton was next on the program. His lecture dealt with anti-toxin treatments for the prevention of diphtheria, vaccination for the prevention of small pox; typhoid serum as a protection against typhoid fever and tetanus serum as a preventative of lock-jaw. His lecture was intently followed and fit in neatly with the aims of the Council to "Promote the Welfare of the Child by the Education of the Parent".

The beautiful blending voices of Misses Thelma Wilson, Margaret Dillon and Gladys Fusselman pleased the audience with their trio of songs, "Carmina", "Beauteous Night" and "Parade of Wooden Soldiers", with Mrs. Joe Dillon as accompanist.

Miss De Rsetta Thomas, Federal instructor along the lines of Child Welfare and Parent Education in the San Antonio schools, was next on the program. Miss Thomas held the attention and interest of her audience by her "straight from the shoulder" talks along these lines. She stressed the early forming of good habits and training in obedience and left with her hearers the thought that it would be well to think seriously on the things that so easily make or mar a human being.

At the close of Miss Thomas' lecture, Miss Minnie Margaret Howard captivated her audience by a reading of "The Aspiring Dishwasher".

Mrs. O. A. Fly, one of the delegates to the Convention of the Fifth District of Parent-Teacher Associations which was held in Crystal City, gave a full report of work of that organization.

Mr. Saathoff spoke briefly at this time and urged a summer round-up for the children of the county as to examination of tonsils, adenoids and teeth and the administration of diphtheria anti-toxins.

Mrs. Geo. Windrow closed the program by rendering two well-received piano numbers, "The Butterfly" and "La Paloma".

At the close of the program a business session was held for the purpose of electing officers. All of the old officers were re-elected as follows: Supt. Saathoff, President; Mrs. Grant of Devine, Vice President; Mrs. Walter Rothe of Seco, Secretary-Treasurer.

At the close of the evening the members of the local P. T. A. served a delectable plate lunch of chicken salad, saltines, deviled eggs, cake and iced tea to all in attendance.

LA COSTE LEDGERETTES

From The LaCoste Ledger. JUNGMAN-RIHN WEDDING.

One of the prettiest weddings of the past months, took place in St. Louis Church, at Castroville at 9:00 A. M., Tuesday, April 26th, 1932, when Miss Stella Rihn became the happy bride of Mr. Elmer Jungman, with Rev. Jacob Lenzen officiating.

MAKE 1932 LEAP YEAR.

Nineteen hundred and thirty-two is a leap year, according to tradition. Each year there is a little time more than three hundred and sixty-five days, but when the time is added together every fourth year, there is an extra day. The year containing three hundred and sixty-six days is known as "Leap Year," and 1932 is that type of year.

Leap Year is also known as the year for women's advantage. During this year, according to tradition, the girls make dates with the boys, and it is even said that the girls reaching maturity prevent themselves from being spinsters at this time.

This year can be made to keep its name and give a wider meaning if everyone aims higher and really leaps towards a higher goal. It is possible for the school and other related organizations to be bettered this year if a deeper interest in new things and new systems, which tend to make good, is exerted. Higher ideals can be sought and the activities of the year widened. Nineteen hundred and thirty-two can be made a year of progress if the upward road is always taken and pursued, until the utmost heights are reached. Why not make this the year for attaining all ambitions? Cooperation will be necessary, but if all work together, something of good will be accomplished. Why not make the Leap Year of 1932 really leap with accomplishments? It is up to each of us.—The Tattler.

Too Much ACID

MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

BOY SCOUT CAMP DATES SET.

President E. K. Fawcett called for the members of the Executive Board to meet at the camp site with Mr.
Minor Huffman, Deputy Regional Scout Executive of Dallas. Ten men met and discussed the Scout Program and its application to the Boys of Southwest Texas.
One of the decisions reached was that the dates for Camp Fawcett for 1932 would be from August 9th to 18th, inclusive—nine days of fun and camping experience. The camp fee is to be $6.00 for each Scout, and $6.00 for each Scout Leader who attends camp. A number of troops are already working on a camp fund that will enable their entire troop to attend camp. Come on, Scouts! Which will be the first troop to notify Scout Headquarters that the funds are on hand, and that every member will be present at camp this summer?

This month we observe Mother's Day. We urge every Scout to be especially thoughtful of the best friend any boy ever has, his Mother.
Rocksprings has 26 boys meeting regularly and will reorganize a strong troop. Eagle Pass Scouts are inquiring about other Scout records, saying: "We want to set our goal high."
They have a Court of Honor scheduled for Friday, May 6th. Boys' Week, sponsored by the Rotary Club, will be observed in Crystal City. A field day for all boys, winding up with a real feed, is the big day. Del Rio has always observed Boys' Week with the boys in charge of the city one day.
Asherton Troop No. 4 has enjoyed an overnight hike recently, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Mennen-berg. Every Scout learned something interesting and helpful. Uvalde Troop No. 6 will have its quarterly Court of Honor during May. They are enjoying their new cabin which was erected by the Lions Club. We are assured that Carrizo Springs and La Pryor Troops are plugging away, as are the Patrols at Fort Clark, Trio, Knippa and Montell.

Remember the camp dates of August 9th to 18th! "Meet me at the old camp fire the first night."

NEW FOUNTAIN EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The New Fountain Epworth League business meeting was held last month at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Bohmalk, at which time the officers for the new year were elected. Our delegate to the Kerrville Assembly was elected. The officers are as follows: President, Edwin Wiemers; vice president, Herbert Hardt; secretary, Erna Schweers; treasurer, Clifford Stiegler, corresponding secretary and reporter, Minnie Wiemers;
first department superintendent, Irene Muennink; second department superintendent, Esther Schweers; third department superintendent, Erna Wiemers; fourth department superintendent, Marvin Wiemers; Agent Marvin Schweers. After the business session a delicious plate lunch was served and the evening was enjoyed by all. Next meeting is to be held at the home of John Muennink May 10th.

The officers were installed Sunday night.

As our new League year has begun, let's work faithfully together and make this a successful one.

Leaguers, let's Get to Work.

For those most likely to succeed in getting things they want or need Are those who know and believe and do;

They get to work and put things through.

Whenever you figure out some fact
It's up to you to on it act.

No matter how good you plan or scheme
Unless you act, it's only a dream.

CHILD need REGULATING?

CASTORIA WILL DO IT!

When your child needs regulating, remember this: the organs of babies and children are delicate. Little bowels must be gently urged—never forced. That's why Castoria is used by so many doctors and mothers. It is specially made for children's ailments; contains no harsh, harmful drugs, no narcotics. You can safely give it to young infants for colic pains. Yet it is an equally effective regulator for older children. The next time your child has a little cold or fever, or a digestive upset, give him the help of Castoria, the children's own remedy. Genuine Castoria always has the name:

know
It's ready to help, to plan and grow.

May 8th is Mother's Day—the one day in all the year we think especially of Mother. I hope you think of her every day and lots of times in each day. Your mother is the best friend you have. If you ask a man who long ago said "goodbye" to his mother, he will say the same as I have done. After our mothers have left us it seems as if we miss them more and more each year.

"O Mother, when I think of thee, 'Tis but a step to Calvary. Thy gentle hand upon my brow Is leading me to Jesus now."

A hearty welcome is extended to you. Come and worship with us next Sunday, Mother's Day.

Emmitt Kollman had a narrow escape from serious if not fatal injury at a ball game Tuesday afternoon. While looking on at the players warm up a pitched ball hit him on the left cheek bone causing an impacted fracture of the same. He was taken to San Antonio Tuesday for an X-ray examination and treatment by specialists and is back home recovering from his injury. The young man is very fortunate that his cheek bone and not his temple received the impact of the ball.

BAPTIST NEWS NOTES.

The brief meetings at the Baptist church closed on last Sunday night. The Pastor expresses his appreciation to his own people and also to many other friends, especially of the Methodist congregation for their presence and cooperation. The meetings were necessarily quiet, the condition of the Pastor's family being such as to limit his activities. And the Pastor's wife, who is now at home again, expresses her profound appreciation to her very many friends for their practical, affectionate sympathy in the time of her suffering.

Services at the church will be held as usual on next Sunday, May 8th. All are urged to be in the Bible school at ten o'clock and at eight o'clock in the evening. Certainly, we all need the knowledge of the word of God, and the comforts of the Christian religion as we learn it in the House of God. If any are bereaved, the Pastor will appreciate it if you will feel free to call him at any time for such service as he can render. Our religion is not a superstition, involving the idolatrous worship of sinful human beings, nor slavish subservency to mortal men, but is intelligent worship, directed to the all sufficient Almighty God. Come, worship with us, and find a welcome. Pastor.

Friends of Mrs. R. W. Merrill are glad to hear of her return Tuesday from a Temple hospital where she underwent a serious operation several weeks ago. Mrs. Merrill is doing nicely since her return and it is hoped she will soon have regained her former good health. Her son, a distinguished surgeon from Rochester, New York, and a daughter from Kansas City, Missouri, who came down to be with their mother, have returned to their respective homes.

Judge and Mrs. H. E. Haass, Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Taylor and son, Blanton, Mrs. Fletcher Davis and Misses Irene Haass, Anne and Lucy Davis from here and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Scherrer and Miss Octavia Davis of San Antonio enjoyed an outing and fishing on the Medina River near Bandera Sunday.

EDITORIALS

There is danger in any organization—no matter how well-meaning its purpose—if it happens to fall into the hands of unsafe leaders. For instance, a state meeting of the Taxpayers' league in San Antonio recently by a narrow margin escaped the egregious blunder of passing a resolution petitioning for a called session of the Texas Legislature. "Economy, what foolish things are sometimes done in thy name!"

The Taxpayers League of Texas has fallen into the same blunder that has served in no small measure to get us into the mess that makes such an organization as itself possible and popular at this time by favoring such a "shifting" of taxes as will create "a graduated income tax to take the place of the present general property tax for state purposes". What this country needs—and must have to avoid eventual repudiation—is not "shifting" but "elimination" of excessive taxes, and this can only come about through elimination of excessive governmental activities. If the Taxpayers League doesn't know this or can not be taught it, then its labors are in vain.

If over-burdened taxpayers hope for tax relief there are two things they must first do themselves: namely, not only quit clamoring for the government to enter into new undertakings of whatever nature calling for the expenditure of more money but demand the abolition of every one possible of its present activities and secondly demand of their legislators that they cease both seeking new sources of new taxes and the effort to shift present taxes from one source to another. Until taxpayers are ready to do these things they hope in vain for material relief from the taxes that are bankrupting them and imperiling our government.

As pointed out by our correspondent, Dr. Spain, on the front page of this issue, there are three plans proposed for cashing the ex-soldiers' adjusted compensation certificates. Because of this fact, the pending legislation is fraught with grave danger to the taxpayers. This danger is emphasized by the frantic opposition of big business to the payment of the compensation in "new government currency". Concentrating their fight on that phase of the pending legislation, if big business can not block the whole plan their next scheme will be to "compromise" on the "Owen plan" and pay with funds secured through a government bond issue. A bond issue once voted by Congress, and these non-taxable instruments will be gobbled up by this same big business—with the money big business has withdrawn from legitimate business and is now hoarding—and no matter whom Congress attempts to tax to meet the interest and redemption the bondholders will snap their fingers at the tax-leivers and grow fat on the blood-money wrung from already over-burdened tax-payers. There is danger to the future welfare of this country—grave danger—in the pending bonus legislation. The "bonus" should be paid and paid now and it should be paid in full legal tender "greenbacks", the money of the constitution, and nothing else. Any other course will result in more harm than good to both ex-soldiers and the country.

THERE AINT NO SANTA CLAUS.

Writing from Washington, among other things, our correspondent points out some of the difficulties confronting those on the ground who are trying to balance the national budget.

He writes:

"It is probable that those most insistent that the budget be balanced through governmental economies would be the first to protest if Congress refused to pass appropriations for the federal buildings, the river and harbor improvements, the agricultural and other loans, the highway projects, the public health service or other governmental activities in which they are individually interested. If the Congress should drop any one of these activities, the wail of protest that would arise would be far louder than that now emanating from those who maintain there should be no increase in taxes.

"It is human nature to be inconsistent, and it is doubtful if inconsistency is displayed to a greater degree than in connection with federal appropriations and taxation. Every community and almost every individual is ready to promote any project or movement if they have the idea that federal funds can be secured; the imposition of taxes to provide these funds is another matter."

Until the public changes its attitude towards Federal activities and demands that it "hands-off" of matters not strictly Federal, and abolishes all departments, bureaus, commissions, etc., not necessary to the maintenance of government stripped to the utmost of Jeffersonian simplicity, it is useless to expect material economies in government expense.

These should be simple and easy enough if people will get back to thinking in terms of Jeffersonian principles.

For instance, when people realize that it is none of the government's business what the individual drinks, the whole Volstead enforcement farce, with its enormous cost, could be wiped off at one stroke.

When they realize that the need for "post roads" went out of existence when there was no more frontiers to "out-post" the whole Federal highway activities can be stopped.

When people—and especially the Congress—learn that it is the duty of the government to "issue money and regulate the value thereof", and not farm it out to corporations and then borrow back at interest evidences of its own credit, even its own huge debt will not appear so difficult to handle.

But so long as we continue to regard Uncle Sam as a Santa Claus we, as tax-payers, may expect to hold the bag for him.

"There aint no Santa Claus."

THE TAXING ORGY.

The taxing orgy has surely reached alarming proportions when the owners of a big hotel tear it down to avoid paying taxes on the structure. But such a spectacle was witnessed in Chicago recently. The owners could save money by having a vacant lot rather than one with a costly improvement on it.

Colonel Robert McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, in an address before the Chicago Better Business Bureau a few days ago, declared that since the war taxes had been taking a good share of the principal from which the income was derived. "We thought taxes were being paid out of earnings, when as a matter of fact, tax collectors were dipping into our savings and capital," he said, and the Houston Post further comments:

The fact that capital and savings were being confiscated by taxation escaped notice Colonel McCormick says, because all property values seemed to be rising steadily. Every property owner was looking to an increase in value in his holdings to enable him to come out. But, now that all values are on the toboggan, it has been brought home to the people what an excessive proportion of their income and even of their capital has been taken from them to finance an expanding governmental machine.

At a time when this discovery is being made, a tremendous new tax burden is levied on the country. When congress gets through with the pending revenue measure, the people will be saddled with a bill of another $1,000,000,000 or more. When profits, wages, salaries, rents and income of every description are falling, when values of all property are sliding downward, when 8,000,000 or more Americans are without employment, one of the heaviest tax increases in the history of the Nation is being levied.

This drastic invasion by the Federal government of the pockets of business and the people is declared to be necessary in order that the budget of the government may be balanced. Sufficient revenue must be raised, we are told, to meet the expenditures, quite regardless of the method. Certainly, bills due must be paid. But, in the future, balancing of the budget should emphasize reduction in expenditures rather than increasing of revenue.

A self-sustaining agriculture—an agriculture that supplies the natural wants of man—is the harbor of last resort for safety when economic storms rock the craft, whether of individuals or nations. No matter what the disaster, there is always hope so long as famine can be out-distanced.

THE PRICE OF MENTAL LAZINESS.

Public slothfulness and indifference are the best friends of high taxes. The increased cost of government must be blamed on the voters who have made it possible for the politicians to mold government to their own desires, says the Industrial News Review.

In 1917, it further avers, the per capita cost of the general departments of the 48 state governments was $4.19. In 1917, it was $11.40. In 1860, there was one employee to every thousand persons in the country. In 1923, there were 50. In 1931, there were 100.

In 1890, the per capita cost of all forms of government was $13.56. In 1913, it was $30.24. In 1923, it was $92.01. In 1928, it was $105.20, and it has increased appreciably since then.

In 1900, the Federal Government received $7.45 per capita and spent $6.84. In 1925, it received $32.76 and spent $30.59. In 1931, a year of severe depression, it received only $27.02—but it spent $34.37, leaving us with the yawning deficit now perplexing the country.

Now tax collections approximate $10,000,000,000 a year, and local governments get twice as much as they did in 1919. In 1922, the net bonded indebtedness of the states was $837,000,000, and that of cities towns and villages was $6,316,000,000. In the middle of 1931, the combined indebtedness of the states and local units of government was $13,500,000,000. The total indebtedness of the nation was $30,300,000,000.

These are facts and they should be sufficient to make the public think. We cannot blame the politicians for high taxes if we, as voters, do not take the actions that will slash government expenses and bring taxes down or, at least, stop them from further advances. We are paying a high price for our mental laziness.

A lot of loose talk that may lead to a lot of expense and useless trouble is going around now about consolidating two or more counties into one with the view of eliminating a lot of county officials and thus promoting economy. Whatever motives prompt the promoters of such a far-fetched scheme for economy, it seems that though blind they could see that this, to say the least, is an inopportune time for such a proposal. With too much centralization of government and its consequent evil of excessive bureaucracy already plaguing us, now is no time to propose removing the government further away from the people by eliminating the people's elected public servants and empowering a centralized government to replace them with an army of appointive clerks and deputies to render a less efficient service. Economy and Democratic rule of the people can both be served better by eliminating a lot of the red-tape and governmental over-lording at the state capital and restoring the control of matters purely local to the supervision of the counties where they rightfully belong. Back to the people with their government, and less centralized authority is the road by which this country must beat back to sanity and simplicity if government of, by and for the people is not to perish from the land!

If the disappointment were not so tragic the spectacle would be amusing of an organization to which we had been looking in hope for a rational means of reducing the tax bur-

OUR MOTHERS' DAY.

By Fletcher Davis.

They wear the fairest of flowers to-day,
Some gay and bright and red,
But I wear pale white today—
Mother is long since dead.

And if from my mute, sad muse I could woo
Notes like those sung above
I'd sing them Mother, for you—
In homage to your love!

Or could this sad but grateful heart of mine
But voice a thankful prayer
That could reach the heart Divine
'Twould be for thy great care.

Across the vista far of empty years,
Come mem'ries of your face
Which ne'er my grief nor tears
May from my heart erase.

For your unselfish deeds of Mother-
love,
And acts of Mother-care,
Fair as a gift from above,
Graved that loved image there!

And because I to your faith would be true,
And ne'er your trust betray,
I wear a white flower for you
On this, our Mothers' Day!

MOTHER O' MINE.

By M. Rose Akin.

"How do I love thee? Let me count the ways!"
Just because you are you—just because you are mine,
Just because you have loved me all my days
With a sympathetic heart that's divine
Because you have been my constant friend—
And a "good sport" along with it as well—
I wouldn't have one way different,
or amend
You if I could—YOU have no

LILAC BLOOMS.

By Irene Terry.

As I wandered along a street,
Past florists' crowded rooms,
Borne on a breeze, like a fairy's breath
Came the scent of Lilac blooms.

Beautiful pictures came to me,
Woven on memory's looms,
Of childhood joys, a garden fair
With hedges of Lilac blooms.

Beds of jonquils and hyacinths blue,
Fleecy clouds and a silvery moon,
The girl who was I, in the long ago—
Oh, the scent of the Lilac bloom!

Orchids for beautiful ladies,
Tuberose for the tomb,
But nothing brings back my lost youth
Like the scent of the Lilac bloom.

LIFE'S PAGE.

How like a scroll of parchment, rare,
Untouched by hand or pen,
Is Life when naught is known of care
And Fate is kind to men.

But gaze upon the written page,
So much is entered there,
And day by day you add a line,
Each entry marked with care.

For God has need of me,
But oh, could I but turn a page
And faultless living see.

MOTHER-HEARTS.

By M. Rose Akin.

God made a mother's heart
The very softest spot
In all this world I know!

God put it in the thoughts
Of some good child, I know
To set apart "her day"!

God keep this loving heart
From wasting by neglect
Of children on "her day"!

God let all mothers' hearts
Receive soft words today,
And roses, too, I pray!

MOTHERHOOD.

By Stella V. Jones.

Sometimes, dear friend, the days
grow long,
Sometimes the nights are cold;
'Tis then I falter and declare That I am growing old.

But when an age'd mother sends
A message such as this,
I know that I am young, for I Still know my baby's kiss.

And knowing makes life full and sweet,
I would not want to die,
For little hands could never find
My heart to guide them by.

MY DEAR MOTHER.

By Kathleen Call Liscum.

I love you, mother mine;
Your spirit so fine;
I love your sweet voice,
It makes my heart rejoice;
I love your long grey hair,
Your face to me so fair.

You share my laughter, feel my tears
Through all these thirteen years.
So much love means from you
Little can I do, little can I pay—
But our love will last us away
E'en when God has called your soul,
To His bright and heavenly goal.
(Written at the age of 13 years.)

THE PROMISE.

By Emma Allen Bailey.

At last this restless heart of mine
Is never more alone—
You give an undivided love
My heart has never known!

And your blue eyes that so enchant
They hold the world for me—
My heart's ablaze with tender love;
'Tis filled with ecstasy!

Now that you love me, I possess
Rich joys I never knew—
The stars at night now shine more bright
Since I know you love me true.

And in return I give to you,
With all its sacred melody,
A heart that's true—I promise you Throughout eternity!

den now crushing the people, in its

such "a change in primary election election costs between the county the burden". Shades of Democracy!

What concern is it of the government what it costs any political party to

If the Taxpayers League wish to ask the government to take any recogni-

CHILD HEALTH DAY

MAY 1 is National Child Health Day. This year when many families are in want through unemployment, it is expected that the date will be observed with a more co-operative spirit than ever before. Support Your Community Child Health Program: It Protects Your Home! is the slogan chosen by the May Day Committee of the State and Provincial Health Authorities of North America. The Committee has outlined the plan thus:

"Among the fundamentals upon which May Day—National Child Health Day 1932—focuses our attention are three elementary necessities—the nutrition of our children, the importance of an adequate clean and safe supply of milk, and the protection of motherhood.

Three Essentials
Must develop a definite procedure to ensure that every child at least the three bare essentials of milk, bread and some fruit or vegetable. We must be sure that every mother knows how to concentrate first on these essentials in the diet of her children and after that to supplement her own in accordance with her means. The record of medicine and the sciences, including X-ray pictures, show beyond a doubt that if children lack essential building elements this year, they cannot be made up to them next year. This lack leaves a permanent mark even in the bones. Growth and development is stunted unless the essentials are provided.

These essential foods must be safeguarded from contamination. This is especially true of milk. It builds bone and muscle better than any other food. Yet unless it is made safe by adequate pasteurization, it may spread disease. Milkborne epidemics usually occur in small towns and rural districts which do not require adequate pasteurization of their milk supply.

Outdoor Life

"That the growing body of the child may utilize to the best advantage the food it gets, sunshine and relaxation are necessary. A measure of the joyfulness associated with May Day should be part of every day's health program. In 1932, therefore, even more than in recent years, every citizen interested in the health of children is supporting community measures for recreation. Since, in the words of Dr. Miriam Van Waters of the Los Angeles Juvenile Court, young people need 'flowers, trees, water, earth and rocks' we should extend rather than curtail the development of parks and playgrounds, nature study, art and hobby clubs.

"Finally, what of the prospective mothers, the women who are carrying new life? In them we have a prime duty to our neighbors. Social workers tell us over and over again that more families are broken up by the death or invalidism of a mother than by any other thing. May Day—National Child Health Day surely means that every child has a right to be well born of a healthy mother who will live to love her child and to take care of her family. This aim, in a year when many mothers are enduring privations, challenges us with one of the most vital problems of our times."

For those communities who are planning May Baskets of health to be distributed to needy families with children on this date, it might be well to consider certain canned foods which physicians have prescribed as healthful for children, and which are not only safeguarded from contamination but will remain fresh in the unopened can indefinitely. Many charity organizations are stressing the use of canned milk instead of loose milk because it is safe and because it can be kept unopened in the can without refrigeration. It is recommended diluted with water for drinking, and for use in any recipe which calls for milk.

In planning outings for children so that they can get the full quota of "flowers, trees, water, earth and rocks" which Dr. Miriam Van Waters recommends, many communities are planning to secure leaders who will make these outings a regular part of the year's program.

Concrete Suggestions

Here are some suggestions for the picnic basket which are healthful for children and which come conveniently packed in cans: refreshing fruit juices such as grapefruit, orange, pineapple and tomato juice; chocolate malted powders which can quickly be converted into nutritious milk drinks; fruits to serve with sponge cake layers, including such fruits as crushed pineapple, applesauce, loganberries, strawberries and blackberries; fruits and vegetables for salads; certain meats and fish which can be quickly spread on slices of bread thus making tastier sandwiches than those allowed to stand in the picnic basket, such delicacies as tuna, salmon, chicken, ham loaf or sliced ham, tongue or veal loaf; crisp cookies among which are delicious ginger cookies and molasses cookies; pureed vegetables for babies and cans of hard candies for the older children."

TURKEY LUCK IS MANAGEMENT.

By W. H. Darrow
Extension Editor.

Prevention of worm infestations and good feeding throughout the season enabled 917 Texas turkey demonstrators last year to market 85 per cent of their birds as No. 1's and to make average profits of $2.04 per turkey, says Paul Cunyus, assistant poultry husbandman in the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College and the United States Department of Agriculture. Demonstration flocks supervised by county and home demonstration agents numbered 71,371 birds of which 60,614 were sold for $204,739. The cost of raising and marketing was $58,966.

Texas turkey raisers are coming to the conclusion that feeding a flock of turkeys is important in keeping the flock healthy, securing good market weights, and producing birds without crooked breast bones or other drawbacks that keep them out of the No. 1 grade, declares Mr. Cunyus. From the first of the season a dry laying mash should be kept in front of the breeders at all times. Any good chicken laying mash will do. A good formula used by many demonstrators who mix their own consists of 200 pounds gray shorts or finely ground wheat, 150 pounds yellow corn or milo meal, 100 pounds meat and bone scrap, 25 pounds alfalfa leaf meal, 10 pounds fine oyster shell and 5 pounds salt. Enough whole grain is fed at night to keep the birds in good condition without fattening.

Young poulters are fed much the same as young chicks but in two or three weeks may be given a mixture of 45 pounds yellow cornmeal, 20 pounds shorts or ground wheat, 10 pounds alfalfa leaf meal, 5 pounds meat scrap, 5 pounds bone meal, 3 pounds oyster shell and 1 pound salt where plenty of skim milk is available. The bone meal and oyster shell prevent crooked breasts.

To prevent worms keep turkeys and chickens separate at all times, treat the breeders for worms at the start of the season, and avoid having dirty, sloppy places about the premises, says Mr. Cunyus. Green feed builds up resistance to worms, and is needed throughout the turkey's life. Lack of it causes much of the summer roup. If worms appear in spite of these precautions birds should be treated every 60 days by one of the common and successful worming treatments demonstrators are using.

THEY GO TOGETHER.

A BOY'S ESSAY ON GIRLS.

From The Owl.

"The girl are the sister of the boy an' have long hare, wares dresses an' powder an' are stuck on actir men. The first girl were called Xmas Eve.

Most every fambly has a girl an' some of the moar unlukie wuns has two or three. We, have a girl in our fambly an' she is my sister. She have a bow an' my father Henry Brown says he hopes she'll fule him into merrying her. Girls kin grow older an' git younger. My sister haz been twenty three fer four years an' sum day we may be twins.

"Fat girls want to be thin and visus versa.

"They is three kinds of girls: brunette girls, blonde girls, an' them that has money. Girls is afraid of mice and bugs which makes it fine to put these little reptyles down they're backs.

"If I couldn't be a boy or a bull dog an' had to be a girl I wud be in blamed hard luck an' soe would you."

Here the Spanish Influence Prevails

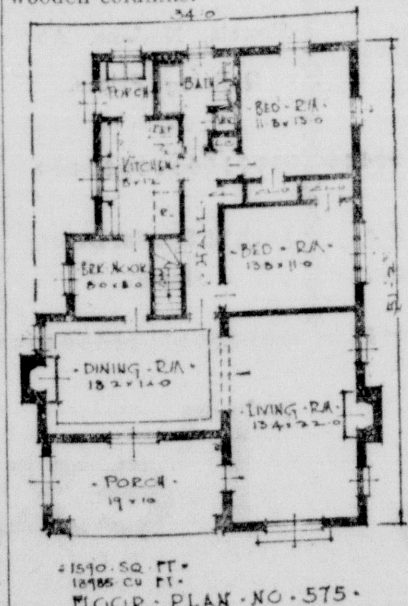

THE POMONA—NO. 575

SOME of these California bungalows are really little architectural gems, especially where they have had the benefit of the skill of an experienced landscape architect as well. This one goes easily into that class. It is one of the most attractive of the smaller types that we have yet seen in this series.

The construction is solid wall common brick, whitewashed just recently heavily to leave a faint yellow joint outline that gives the effect of a diminutive paneling. The roof is of heavy Spanish tile of the type peculiar to Southern California. The oven-shaped chimneys are a California conceit.

The barred living room window is distinctly a Spanish touch. It is from the outside of such windows that the lovelorn swains of Spain and Mexico do their serenading and play the lute. This is the Spanish term for courting. In this instance, however, the bars are not brick construction sent upon request.

wrought iron but ornately carved wooden columns.

From this exposure one gets a rather deceiving impression of the real size of the bungalow. It is rectangular rather than square and runs back to an over-all depth of 51 feet, providing an exceptionally large living room and two comfortably large sleeping rooms on the one side, with dining room, breakfast nook, kitchen and an enclosed rear porch, with a bath room at the end of the hall between.

Being designed for the California climate the bungalow is not provided with the heating plant which in the north is indispensable. Neither has it the basement which is also so necessary where zero weather comes with winter. Both features, however, may be added and should cost no more in this case than in an ordinary house, where provision is made in advance. But do not overlook this fact in considering this plan. It is really intended for a climate akin to that of California.

The Common Brick Manufacturers' Association, Cleveland, Ohio, can furnish complete drawings for this design. Leaflet
